

666 and Base Sixty Math - Part 2

Ancient Aliens

ANCIENT ALIENS

Many people want to point to the SKL as evidence that the earth has been inhabited for hundreds of thousands of years. Most think there were advanced civilizations, ancient aliens, or some other species that ruled the earth before humans. Where did they go? Why did they leave if they stayed here for 200,000 years or more? But most of all, where are the bones, human bones, Anunnaki bones, and animal bones? We can point to a scant few, but 200,000 years' worth is nowhere to be found.

Science credits the earliest written records of human civilization to the Sumerian tablets, the oldest of which is dated approximately 3500 BCE or about 5,500 years old. (I will not quibble over 1,000 years for this post.) Using that age we can say that in the last 5,500 years, the human race has grown from bronze-age technology to today's space-age tech. At the same time, our population has grown from millions to 7.9 billion inhabitants and has filled the earth with cities of concrete and steel.

That being the case in the last 5,500 years, how is it that the highly technologically advanced alien/human occupants of the earth accomplished comparatively nothing in their 200,000 to 400,000 thousand-year rule of planet Earth?

Of all the questions that the theory of the Anunnaki ruling earth raises, the number one question in my mind is, where are the bones? Do you have any idea how many animal bones would accumulate in 200,000 years? Let's just take one of the kings from the Sumerian Kings List, Dumuzid. The king's list calls him Dumuzid the shepherd. The accepted translation of the SKL says he reigned over 5 cities of Sumer, southern Iraq, for 36000 years. If true, he was either the world's worst shepherd or southern Iraq should be covered in a layer of sheep bones about three feet deep. Can you even imagine how many sheep would be born, live, and die in 36,000 years? Or maybe the title shepherd was figurative and he was a shepherd of men. OK, same question, if humans grew to 7.9 billion population in 5500 years what would we grow to in 36,000 years? Where are the bones? Do you think they decomposed? If they can completely decompose in the last 200,000 years how is it we have fossilized dinosaur bones from 65 MILLION YEARS AGO?

And while we are talking about dinosaurs, here is what the United States Government would have you believe, and I quote, "Dinosaurs went extinct about 65 million years ago (at the end of the Cretaceous Period), after living on Earth for about 165 million years. " This quote is taken from the USGS.gov website. The link is <https://www.usgs.gov/faqs/when-did-dinosaurs-become-extinct#:~:text=Dinosaur%20went%20extinct%20about%2065,for%20about%20165%20million%20years.>

The United States government would have you believe that dinosaurs were the dominant species on earth for 165 MILLION YEARS. At the top of the food chain, no serious predators to limit their number or reduce their population, they could multiply and consume the earth's resources for 165 million years. How many dinosaurs could be born, live, and die in 165 million years if they could simply eat and breed, eat and breed, eat and breed? The answer is billions and billions and billions. Every square inch of dry land would be crawling with dinosaurs for millions and millions of years. Where are the bones? The entire surface of the ground should be miles deep in dinosaur bones. Just think...or don't...academia doesn't. Surely over the last 65 million years since they went extinct, the bones have decomposed. Really? Then why do we have some fossilized dinosaur bones? According to academia and the government, there was an extinction-level event, a meteor or comet hit the earth and wiped them out. If that is the case then need I remind you at the time of that event they had been ruling the earth for 165 million years. The earth's surface at the time the meteor/comet hit would have been crawling with dinosaurs. If they all went extinct suddenly, within a year or so, then there should be wall-to-wall dinosaur bones fossilized from that event alone.

Enough with the nonsense from the government and academia. The sixteen Sumerian Kings List artifacts are not evidence of a two hundred thousand to four hundred thousand-year-old civilization on earth. When coupled with the Hebrew scriptures, they are evidence of angelic creatures leaving the spiritual domain of heaven to take on earthly forms and mate with women to procreate and thereby dominate humanity in a most ungodly manner. That was their intention. They left their first estate (God-given position of responsibility) to willfully assume a new position as gods of the human race.

There is a lot of teaching on this subject going on now. As with every wind of doctrine, it also is going astray. Many are trying to say either directly or indirectly that the reason for the flood was to wipe out the Nephilim, the angelic-human hybrids. Do not be deceived, God said unequivocally that the reason for the flood was that the wickedness of man was great on the earth and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

Now getting back to Ancient Aliens and the Sumerian Kings List, as I explained in Part 1, the Sumerian Kings List when properly understood dates the reign of these kings somewhere between 670 years and 1266 years, not 241,000 to 456,000 years that academia would have you believe. We do however have remnants of technologically advanced civilizations in the pre diluvian world. These mostly stone remnants are worldwide and demonstrate advanced engineering and machined workmanship. The best known of these are the pyramids of Giza but there are many, many more just as intriguing all over the world.

The pots shown below are carved from granite or diorite. They are of exquisite quality, impossible to make by hand, and date to at least 2950 BCE if not earlier. These are obviously machine-made. Below the pots are ancient Egyptian statues carved in granite, diorite, or basalt. These are some of the hardest stones on earth and yet the symmetry of the statues is perfect. This is not something that can be achieved by hand.

The collage below is from Puma Punku in Bolivia. These are examples of ancient megalithic stonework using machine cutting and precisely fitting mortarless walls. We cannot duplicate this workmanship today.

Puma Punku

The first picture below is another example of huge boulders seamlessly fitting together without mortar and with no regard for shape. They simply caused the boulders to adapt to each other fitting together so tightly that you cannot slip a piece of paper between the stones. They were also able to curve these huge boulders as necessary. You can see from the people in the picture how large these stones are and how high they were lifted to stack on each other. Quarrying them is one thing, transporting them to the location is another feat, then lifting these multi-ton boulders and stacking one upon another and finally shaping them once they are in place to fit with each other is simply stunning.

The second picture below is an architectural and engineering marvel. There are many temples in India that are intricately carved from one piece of stone. Those are incredible in and of themselves. But this temple complex is different. Each of the individual stone carvings is of a modular design and is mounted on the stone walls. The modular components are of such precision that you cannot tell they are modular. There are millions of components, carved out of stone, that fit precisely together. Our finest machined metal components today are the only level of precision that could compete with the precision quality of these stone carvings. How anyone could design all these components, produce them and build this entire complex without computers and high-tech machines is beyond me.

Sacsayhuaman, Peru

Chennakeshava Temple, India

The evidence of advanced technology in the past is everywhere in all countries on the earth and under the sea. But is this evidence of aliens from another planet bringing their tech to Earth or it is evidence of the science and technology of the antediluvian world that was lost in the flood?

I believe that the Hebrew scriptures give us all the information we need to answer that question.

In the book of Genesis Chapters 1-5 we learn:

A. That before the flood it had never rained upon the earth. The water rose up from the ground as a mist and watered the surface of the earth.

B. That a river flowed out of the Garden of Eden and was the fountainhead of the four rivers that flowed throughout the earth. These rivers are named Pison, Gihon, Hiddekel, and the Euphrates.

C. The average natural lifespan of humans before the flood was plus or minus 900 years.

In the book of 2 Esdras, chapter 6 verses 42-47 we learn:

D. That before the flood 1/7 of the earth was covered by water and 6/7 was dry ground.

In Genesis Chapter 6, and Enoch Chapter 6 we learn:

E. The sons of God were the Watcher class of angels. They descended from heaven and took wives from among the descendants of Adam. These women bore children to them and they became giants.

In Enoch Chapters 8 and 9 we learn that:

F. The sons of God (angels) taught mankind all the metals of the earth and how to work them, enchantments and the resolving of enchantments, astrology, the constellations, knowledge of clouds, signs of the earth, signs of the sun, and the course of the moon. Also, these things the sons of God (angels) taught mankind were things hidden from man in the beginning, (Adam was not given this knowledge during his creation or when he was in the garden of Eden) but that mankind had been seeking to learn these things before the angels arrived.

The Hebrew scriptures testify to an extraterrestrial interference in mankind's intellectual development. These extraterrestrial creatures were not from another planet but rather from another plane of existence. They did not hand mankind technology, they gave them knowledge and understanding of the earth, its elements and lifeforms, the sun, moon, stars, and their movements. With this additional knowledge, mankind leaped forward in its development.

The Bible tells us that the lifespan of humans before the flood averaged around 900 years. Imagine where we would be today if the best minds in just the last 300 years were still alive and working at their craft, Einstein, Tesla, Alan Turing, Marie Curie, Isaac Newton, Michael Faraday, James Maxwell, Ernest Rutherford, Neils Bohr, Werner Heisenberg, Erwin Shrodinger, Paul Dirac, Max Planck and that is just a short list. What would our world look like if these people were not just alive, but still in their prime of life and continuing their work today, collaborating with each other, and on into the future for the next 500 years? The very idea just blows my mind.

That was the reality in the world before the flood. They had their geniuses also. The only difference is they did not die at 70 or 80 or 90 years old. They continued to work at their craft and they collaborated with their peers for hundreds of years. When you look at Puma Punku and ask, "how did they do that? Do you think they had electricity and power tools?" Of course, they did, that and much more! I am convinced that the world before the flood knew more about physics, mathematics, and chemistry than we will ever know. Just how much can the human mind accomplish in 900 years?

With that, I want to say that these very intelligent people chose the sexagesimal system on purpose. It was the right tool for the job.

Base 60 as a system for time: Before the flood, the earth's orbit was slightly different than it is today and there were exactly 360 days in one year. Using a base 60 numbering system, they divided 360 days into 12 months of 30 days each, and if they had a week it would surely have been 60 weeks of 6 days in a week. Each day of 24 hours and each hour of 60 minutes and each minute of 60 seconds.

The same system for geometry uses 360 degrees in a circle and uses base of 60 divisors.

The same system for measuring, 6 inches in a span, 2 spans(12 inches) in a foot, 6 spans(36 inches) in a yard, and 5280 feet(60×88) in a mile. Everything in the physical realm of time and space worked together seamlessly and all of it was in harmony with the physical universe. As I said earlier, God created this universe in six days using the numbers 1,2,3,4,5,6. Therefore, it is no accident that the antediluvian people used the sexagesimal system. They were way ahead of us in math, basic science, and applied science.

Getting around the earth was easy back then. 6/7ths of the earth was dry land. Four rivers flowed around the world. Whether they developed flight or not I am not going to debate here. In any case, ground-based travel or navigating rivers was child's play for them.

Finally, I think the Ancient Alien theory is an errant explanation for the abundant worldwide evidence of forgotten technology. The Bible and other Hebrew scriptures tell us exactly what happened. You just need to read the information they provide and then think about the ramifications of those revelations.

Modern UFO/UAP phenomena and evidence of advanced technology of non-human origin are related subjects. They may or may not be the same groups, past and present. People tie them together because they like easy explanations. For this reason, they jump to conclusions taking the path of least resistance rather than gathering and then carefully examining all the evidence. Let's delve into this.

So who or what is demonstrating the advanced technology being observed by many people primarily in our sky and nearby outer space? The question I always ask myself is, where are the factories that create those vehicles? Somebody has to be making the materials and components of those things. Just to make a car takes thousands of businesses to mine the raw materials, take those materials and form them into useable substances, then use those substances to create all the different components that make up a vehicle, then transport all of the components from countless sources to a central location and begin the assembly process. All of the businesses and industries I just mentioned are each made up of employees from just a few to tens of thousands. Millions of people are involved in one way or another just to make a car. Maybe they have robots, but then who made the robots? □ My point is, that it takes a society to create high-tech.

The question now becomes, is there a society other than our own that is creating the UAPs that are being witnessed by many people? I believe there are five possible answers that I will attempt to unfold in a logical manner while also using the Hebrew scriptures to provide insight.

The first possible answer is simply, no. This answer assumes that we are the only intelligent, non-angelic occupants of the universe, therefore one of the countries on Earth made them. I find that unlikely. Reports of UAPs date back to WWII and before. At that time our physics was barely advanced enough to create the atomic bomb. We did not have the know-how then and had not progressed enough to have designed, engineered, and built them ourselves without outside help.

Possibility number two is that this is the work of the fallen angels of Genesis 6. Angels being eternal creatures perhaps they took up residence in the inner earth or under the oceans and lakes and resorted to plan B for the domination of mankind. This would be a hard no. The Hebrew scriptures state that God Himself dealt with the angels who left their first estate. His judgment was so severe that the angel Michael stated no other angel would dare to repeat their folly. These angels indeed still exist but are chained in eternal darkness until the day of judgment.

The next three possible answers are yes, there is a society(s) other than humans here on Earth or elsewhere in the universe.

Since we do not know who originally designed and built the UAP then it follows we do not know who they are or where they reside. It is a near certainty they do not live on the surface of the earth. We have pretty well explored all the dry land on Earth.

Next, we have Admiral Byrd's report of a non-human society living on the inner earth. We know very little about the interior of the earth. Since it remains largely unexplored I would have to concede the possibility exists. However, I do not believe they would be natives of the earth. God gave man dominion over the earth and all the creatures God created on the earth.

There are also many reports of UAPs in the oceans and large lakes. Again it is possible. Seventy percent of the earth's surface is covered in water and our ability to explore it is somewhat limited. However, I do not believe the raw materials and everything required for manufacturing the vehicles that have been observed including the population requirements could be hidden. Worldwide we have around 400 submarines in the water at any time. A large facility would be difficult to conceal forever. The reports of UAPs in the water are too numerous to dismiss, but again for the reason stated in the last paragraph, I do not believe they are native to this planet nor is their society Earth's resident.

The final yes possibility is that these are of extraterrestrial origin. Simply put, they are from another planet. I find this to be the most likely possibility. I will support this possibility from the Bible.

Before I go any further, if you have read all of my posts on The Truth About Science up to this point then it is worth summarizing the key points for you at this time.

I have shown that a 'godless' science has created the false narrative of an ancient universe, springing out of nothingness yet containing order and laws of existence that cannot be violated. Further, life began by chance and evolved from simple forms to more complex forms naturally. Man, though being a latecomer to this universe, is the dominant life form on this planet and perhaps in the universe. This in a nutshell is the false narrative.

My argument has been that real science proves that the universe is approximately 6000 years old. That Man was created by God on day 6, with some built-in knowledge, and has been the dominant species on this planet from the beginning. Because the universe is 6000 years old, all history and physical evidence must be contained and explained in that time frame. I have shown that before the flood mankind was more mathematically and scientifically advanced than we are today. The pre-flood civilization used the sexigesimal, base 60, counting system which the remnants of we still use today. I have also stated that the universe was created using the numbers 1,2,3,4,5,6 and that is the key to understanding the math and physics of the universe. In the next two posts, I will do my best to show and convince you of that fact.

Now, back to those pesky aliens.

Are they humans from another planet or a different God-created lifeform or both? Let's take a look at scriptures in the Bible that apparently no one pays any attention to. This is Deuteronomy 30:1-5 written by Moses. The context is this, Moses has read all the blessings of keeping God's laws and all the curses of breaking God's law to the people of Israel. Now Moses is saying that in the future their descendants will be scattered because of not being faithful to God. But at an appointed time a certain generation will look back at all that has happened to their ancestors and will turn back to God and obey His voice with their whole hearts and all their souls. At that time God will gather His chosen people, His elect, from all the nations where they have been scattered. But God purposefully inserts verse 4 here where God says that even if they have been driven out to the farthest reaches of the heavens He will return them from there to the land of Israel.

Deut 30:1-5 KJV 1 And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath driven thee, 2 And shalt return unto the LORD thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul; 3 That then the LORD thy God will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and gather thee from all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath scattered thee. 4 If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the LORD thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee: 5 And the LORD thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers.

Now we will look at what Jesus said about gathering His elect. These two verses are about the same event. The first one is Matthew's account of what Jesus said and the second one is Mark's account of what Jesus said.

*Matt 24:31 KJV And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

*Mark 13:27 KJV And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

The way the passages in Deuteronomy are written God is saying that even if His elect are in the farthest reaches of the heavens He will gather them from there. In Jesus' account, it appears to be a certainty that some of His elect will be in the farthest reaches of the heavens.

According to the bible at some time before God creates a new heaven and a new earth, humans will be living on other planets in the farthest reaches of the heavens. I have done an extensive word study on these verses and my conclusion is they mean exactly what they say. Just for good measure, I will give you one more to chew on.

Deut 4:19KJV And lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the LORD thy God hath divided unto all nations under the whole heaven.

Since this is not a Bible study I am not going into the context, you can do that if you are interested. The keywords are highlighted. The word divided here is used in the sense of apportioning or giving some to one and some to another. The word nations here is used in the sense of various ethnicity. The point I want to make is that nations or ethnicity are not necessarily all human since the whole heaven is the scope. If you go back and get the context you have to ask yourself why did God think He needed to explain how He divided up the heavens? He could have put a period after and serve them if it was only about idolatry.

One of the main points of my posts up to now has been the age of the universe. God created the universe and all the hosts of it about 6000 years ago. I do not believe that aliens from another planet would have come to Earth before the flood. The flood was 1656 years after creation. The fallen angels got here about a thousand years or so before that. I find it unlikely that a race would master interstellar travel in a few hundred years. Now that the universe is around 6000 years old it does not seem unreasonable that a less self-destructive species could have progressed to that point.

I do not know who is making and operating the UAPs. Personally, I have never seen one or had any experience in my life with something I could not identify. I have written these things because the people of God need to know what the Hebrew scriptures say. God is not the author of confusion.

Finally, I will leave this subject with a word to the wise. The human race is going to have to deal with extraterrestrial beings at some point in the not-too-distant future.

God left you a warning in His word.

*Revelations 12:7-9 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

It seems we are going to have to deal with fallen angels once more. This time let's try to get it right. They are not here to help, they are not our friends, they are not from another planet, and they are not gods.

Furthermore,

Despite the claims of this man to be a god, he is a man.

(2Thess 2:3-12 [KJV])

Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition; Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.

And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

*Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders,

And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

LOVE THE TRUTH.

